About Free the Slaves

Founded in 2000, Free the Slaves (FTS) is a pioneer and leader in the global effort to eradicate modern slavery. Our mission is to end the conditions that allow modern slavery to exist. Free the Slaves works at the grassroots level to empower vulnerable individuals and communities to achieve freedom from slavery and develop resistance to slavery. We work with and through local partners to build capacity to combat slavery and trafficking. We advocate for policies and laws that help in the fight against slavery. We are committed to rigorous assessment of our work and scrupulous integrity in the use of donor funds. We are headquartered in Washington, D.C., with programs in East and West Africa, South Asia, Latin America, the Caribbean and the Middle East and North Africa region. Free the Slaves has a diverse and expert staff, and a highly engaged and supportive board of directors. For more information, please visit www.freetheslaves.net

Consultancy Overview

Free the Slaves has completed three training modules for in-person workshops and is in the process of completing a fourth:

- Module 1 – Educating and Mobilizing Vulnerable Communities
- Module 2 – Survivor Liberation, Care and Reintegration
- Module 3 – Strengthening the Rule of Law
- Module 4 – Ensuring Access to Essential Social and Economic Services

As part of our new strategic direction, FTS is in the process of shifting its training and capacity building work to an online platform. We have developed online versions of the training module content, but there have been challenges in executing the workshops. Trainers and trainees have not been able to follow the material closely, content sequencing is not well coordinated, some sessions are unrealistically long, and trainers cannot implement some in-person techniques virtually (for example, the use of flip charts or having a gallery walk or creating a “parking lot” for burning questions).

The online technical consultant will play a critical role in updating the design of the online versions of the FTS community liberation modules and supporting FTS in its organizational adaptation to expanding its online work and strategy. The consultant will work closely with the leadership and selected programmatic staff of Free the Slaves.

Task of Consultant

The online technical consultant will:

- Work with the senior country program manager for Ghana by providing regular updates and incorporate feedback from other senior staff of Free the Slaves
- Develop a better virtual adaptation of the training material for easy access, usage and online participant engagement
- Develop online training presentations of the modules that are comprehensive but can be delivered within the shortest time possible
- Share with FTS innovative tools to ensure effective online trainings, including training methods and tactics

Qualifications

- 5+ years of progressive experience in developing online training materials, and proven online training expertise
- Demonstrated experience and skills in online training, including online materials development and implementation
- Experience overseeing trainings and modules development
- Fluency in English (written and spoken) with excellent communication skills

FTS anticipates duration for this consultancy would be 20 days minimum and 25 days maximum.
